NOT PASSING ON CLAIMS

SO SENATOR CULLOM TELLS ONE OF THE EXPATRIATED.

The Troubles of 1895 and Minister Willis' Apathy Before the Commission—Japanese Representative.

It was 6 o'clock last night when the Annexation Commissioners adjourned, having been in session for eight hours during the day. The proceedings consisted of solid talking, but on what subjects could not be learned. The Commission met again at 9 o'clock this morning. An hour later S. Hirai, the Japanese Consul Elve, was given a private audience of twenty minutes.

At 10:30 the doors were thrown open to the general public, which consisted of about six persons, and in response to the request of Chairman Cullom for any person to come forward who wished a hearing, G. B. Sweager advanced to the foot of the Commissioners' table and announced that he appeared in behalf of one Henry A. Jouen, and for the purpose of making an argument in support of a memorial addressed by him to the Commission in Jouen's behalf and filed several days ago. The nature of the memorial, which was not read this morning, appears from the argument made.

Mr. Sweager, who by the way, says he formerly practiced law in Illinois, and has known Senator Cullom for many years, said:

"The memorial which the Commission has in its possession presents the evidence upon which H. A. Jouen now claims damages from the Hawaiian government for illegal imprisonment and forcible expatriation during the year 1895, after the so-called revolutionary troubles. Immediately after Jouen's expatriation by order of the government, his brother laid his case before Albert S. Willis, then Minister to Hawaii from the United States, claiming damages as an American citizen for illegal imprisonment and expulsion from the country. Minister Willis advised against forwarding the case to Washington and finally ignored it. Mr. Jouen's brother, however, sent the claim to the State Department against the advice of Minister Willis and some time afterward received a notification to the effect that his proper remedy was to exhaust the resources of the local courts before appealing to the State Department. The Washington authorities were evidently not aware that the executive and advisory councils had prepared for such an emergency by passing a law prohibiting the courts from hearing claims against the government arising out of the revolutionary troubles of 1895."

"Save by permission of the Legislature," interposed President Dole. "You are correct," continued Mr. Sweager, "and of course Jouen could never get the permission of the Legislature. The facts of Mr. Jouen's nationality are well established. He is a native of the United States and had exercised the prerogatives of a citizen of the United States for eight years previous to 1894, when he was granted letters of denization by this government. These letters (reading them) expressly state that the person to whom they are granted does not forfeit his previous citizenship. Jouen has never been other than an American citizen, de jure and de facto, and no questions have ever been raised as to his qualifications in any way. Minister Willis should have referred this man's claim to Washington, but as he did not, I am here to request that this Commission will take such action as will result in the claim being investigated by the State Department."

Senator Cullom said: "This Commission is not passing on claims of this sort. However, we will see what can be done."

No other person being present who had anything to offer, the Commission then resumed its executive session.

Harry Jouen, whose claim was brought before the Commission this morning, was in the employ of Marshal Hitchcock as a detective, but he was suspected of being implicated in the revolution. He was accordingly arrested, imprisoned for some time, and finally deported.

SAVINGS BANK TO START

BISHOP & CO. ABOUT TO ENTER THE FIELD.

Will Establish a Separate Department of Their Business—Adopt Postal Savings Bank Regulations.

Bishop & Co. intend to resume the savings bank business. With the 1st of next October the firm will open a savings department. The business of this department will be kept separate and distinct from that of the commercial and general banking business. The securities and funds will be kept separate. In short it is to be a separate department with every provision for security thrown around it.

The rules and regulations of the Postal Savings Bank will be adopted as far as practicable, and interest will be allowed at the rate of four and a half per cent.

The establishment of this branch of the banking business has been in contemplation for some time, and preparations are so far advanced that announcement of it is now made. With annexation it is a question whether the Postal Savings department of the government will be continued. If it is not the need of private savings banks will be felt at once. If it is continued, the natural growth of Honolulu, it is thought, will warrant the establishment of another institution for the same purpose.

NO SIGNS OF THE MILITARY.

Bungalow, Barracks and Executive Building Unoccupied.

If it is the intention of the United States military authorities to take possession of the Bungalow, barracks, drill shed and basement of the Executive building, there is no present indication of it, although there was a report about the latter building that one company was to be moved into basement and two into the old barracks during the day. This report could not be traced to its fountainhead. Minister Cooper had not even heard of it. He had received an acknowledgment of the receipt of his communication to General Merriam, but beyond that knew nothing as to what was contemplated. This afternoon all the buildings were deserted, save for the watchmen whom Minister King keeps on duty.

THE BAR MEETING.

Attorney General Smith has called a meeting of the members of the bar to be held at his office tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. He said the meeting was to get an expression of opinion on the form of the judiciary preferred for these Islands in future, for presentation to the Commission.

STILL GOING ON.

The Lucas-Perry case is still on trial before Judge Stanley and there are no signs of the end. The testimony is not all in yet.

CHURCH AT KALAUPAPA.

Father Wendelin is building a new Catholic church at Kalaupapa. It is to be 94 feet long by 38 feet wide and will have large seating capacity. It will cost about $3,000. Nearly all the necessary funds have been raised by subscription, much of them in Europe. The present chapel has become too small to meet the needs of the Catholic worshippers at the settlement.

A NOTABLE LUAU.

Princess Kaiulani will give a luau this evening in honor of the Congressional party. The affair will take place at Ainalou, and promises to be a very brilliant affair. The generals and their staffs, Admiral Miller and staff, and army and navy officers present in Honolulu are asked to meet the distinguished guests, besides a number of our society people.

The billiard tables belonging to the Officers' club have been moved out of the room offered to Colonel Barber as an office. It is now partly filled with a choice collection of old chairs.

WORK AT CAMP GULSTAN

READING AND WRITING ROOM FOR THE SOLDIERS.

Catholic Ladies Have Erected a Building on St. Augustine Chapel Grounds for the Boys in Blue.

Under the patronage of the Catholic Ladies' Society a reading, writing and recreation room for the use of the soldiers at Camp McKinley and Camp Otis has been established near the park. A structure 45 by 22 feet has been erected on the grounds of St. Augustine chapel, just mauka of the Waikiki road at the end of the tramway line. The structure has corrugated iron roof, but the sides are enclosed with coconut leaves to give it a distinctive and typical Hawaiian appearance. In the structure the current newspapers and magazines and other reading matter are provided, as well as writing material of all kinds for the use of the soldiers.

It is the intention of the ladies having the matter in charge to serve breakfasts to the boys in blue from time to time and in every way to add as much of the wholesomeness of home life to the camp life as it is possible to do. The preparations for serving breakfast in this building were not quite complete last Sunday, but a number of the boys were entertained at breakfast after the morning service in the chapel at the home of Mrs. McDonald.

St. Augustine chapel was erected nearly thirty years ago, but for many years now, until the arrival of the soldiers, it was not used for the service of the mass except occasionally. Services for the soldiers were begun a week ago last Sunday, which by a pleasing coincidence was St. Augustine's day. Mass will be said every Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock while the soldiers are in camp. The attendance was so large last Sunday that the chapel was not large enough for the purpose and the new structure was used.

The ladies intend to conduct the work somewhat along the lines followed by the Catholic Truth Society as founded by Archbishop Riordan, at Camp Merritt and the Presidio, in San Francisco. They have already named their building Camp Gulstan, in honor of Bishop Gulstan, of the Catholic mission here.

Among the ladies who have been active in the work are Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Robert Cowes, Miss Harrison, Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. McChesney, Mrs. J. Lucas, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. P. Lucas, Mrs. John McLane and the Misses Perry.

GOO KIM ACTS.

Has an Entirely Satisfactory Interview with General Merriam.

Goo Kim Fui, the Chinese commercial agent, has taken up the claims of the Chinese gardeners in Manoa valley who suffered from last Sunday's depredations. He called on General Merriam in regard to the matter. He expresses himself as highly pleased with the result of the interview. He laid the situation of the Chinese gardeners before General Merriam, their industry and their dependence on the product of their gardens for a livelihood. General Merriam assured him that all damage done would be paid for to the value of a pineapple. Consul Goo Kim expressed himself as highly pleased with the courteous manner in which he had been received by General Merriam.

MAIL IMPROVEMENTS.

Postmaster General Oat has established a tri-weekly service round the Island of Kauai, which will be a great benefit to the people of that island. For formerly a weekly service was all that could be depended upon, in spite of the number of steamers visiting the different parts of the Island. Another advantageous change is a tri-weekly service from Lahaina to Wailuku. This will enable foreign mails to now reach the center of Maui much more quickly than formerly. Mr. Oat is to be congratulated on his energy.

FINED AND IMPRISONED.

Nalei, the native who sold okolehao to Deputy Marshal Chillingworth last night, at Manoa valley, pleaded guilty this morning of distilling liquor, and was sentenced by Judge Wilcox to three months imprisonment, a fine of $100 and to pay costs.

THEIR TIME IS SHORT.

In spite of all rumors to the contrary it is more than likely that the Commission will get away on the Australia.

FISHING SMACK MALOLO

ARRIVES FROM SAN FRANCISCO THIS MORNING.

Will Engage in Deep Sea Fishing—Her Interior Arrangements and Build—Flies the Hawaiian Flag.

The Malolo, the new craft with which the Oahu Market Company will inaugurate its deep sea fishing enterprise, arrived in port early this morning, after a fourteen days trip from San Francisco.

The name signifies "Flying Fish," and is symbolized by the gilded bas-reliefs of flying fish in lieu of the old fashioned figure head formerly seen more often than now.

The Malolo was designed by Captain John F. Sass, and was built in San Francisco under his supervision. She is a trip looking craft 68 feet in length over all, 15 feet 4 inches in the beam and with 6 feet depth of hold. She has two masts schooner rigged, but her main motive power is a Hercules gas engine, which developed in the shop test 28 horse power. Either gasoline or kerosene can be used as fuel, and one hundred gallons will last for twenty-four hours, at full speed.

The Malolo was designed for fishing and all her interior arrangements have been subordinated to that end. Amidships there are two water tight compartments, each eight feet long, the two occupying the entire width of the vessel, for keeping live fish. In connection with these compartments there is a circulating pump, driven by the main engine for circulating fresh air and water through them, so that the fish will be brought to market in perfect condition. Forward of these water compartments there is a hold 15 feet long which can be fitted up either as a refrigerator, using ice, or with cold storage apparatus driven from the main engine.

For the accommodation of the crew to man the vessel there are four bunks aft and two forward, a cook's galley and a small dining room. Considerable work in finishing has yet to be done. She will be repainted inside and out, this having been delayed until the vessel got away from the smoke laden atmosphere of San Francisco.

The Malolo received Hawaiian registry from Consul General Wilder in San Francisco and came into port flying the Hawaiian flag. But in the uncertainty respecting the shipping laws since annexation there was some question made at the custom house as to this registry. The matter will no doubt be quickly straightened out, however.

For the present the registered ownership will be in W. E. Wall, owing to the law passed at the last session of the Legislature requiring corporations to have been in existence two years before they could register vessels.

The promoters of the new enterprise promise to sell fish at 10 cents a pound and expect to furnish it of the best quality and in perfect condition.

THE ARIZONA.

The time of sailing for the Arizona still seems to be undetermined. She was to have come up to the Mail wharf yesterday, but did not, for some reason, but may today. She has on board a number of sectional portable cottages for officers' camp quarters, which will probably be taken off.

Eight ambulances brought down on the Tacoma are to be shipped to Manila by the Arizona. What will be done for horses or mules to haul them after they get there is not now known. It is suggested, however, that under the virtual armistice now existing, ambulances which are neutral goods are the only thing the Tacoma brought which can be sent to Manila.

ANOTHER LAWYER.

William White of Lahaina has been admitted to practice law in all the courts, and has taken the oath both to the United States and the Republic of Hawaii.

Y. M. C. A. ORCHESTRA.

The amateur orchestra of the Y. M. C. A. will meet tomorrow night for practice, and it is hoped that every member will be on hand. Wray Taylor, the leader, has received a large quantity of new music for the orchestra for practice on.

HARDEST RACE YET ROWED

PROGNOSTICATIONS FOR THE COMING EVENT.

Healanis are Favorites for the Senior Race and Myrtles for the Junior—Last Year's Crew and Time.

Interest in the championship events over the Pearl Harbor course, next Saturday, is increasing, and the Myrtle red, Healanis blue and the royal yellow of the Lelanis greet the eye everywhere. The general expectation is that the senior race will be the hardest ever rowed over the course, and that it will be a contest of strength and endurance from start to finish.

The champions are not saying much, but the fact that those who have money to invest on the races are asking odds from the Healanis shows that the latter crew is regarded as being the stronger of the two. While the Lelanis have not much hopes of winning, still boat racing is a good deal like horse racing, and the outsider often wins. The Lelanis propose to keep close enough to the others to take advantage of any little fluke, and should the pace be a hot one from the start and the two leading crews tire themselves out, the Lelanis may come up with a rush at the end and win.

An old oarsman who has rowed in championship races before, said today: "There is no question that the senior race on Saturday will be the hardest ever rowed over the course. The Healanis have probably the better crew, but the Myrtles have their past glory and records to spur them on. I should say there is no choice for the winner, all things being considered. The Lelanis as I saw them row the night before last won't be in it, but they are improving daily, and may be in much better shape on Saturday than they are now. In the junior event the Myrtles have, I think, the better crew and ought to win."

The Healanis club won the choice of positions yesterday and took the middle of the course; the Lelanis took the inner course as second choice leaving the outside course to the Myrtles.

All the crews are pulling the same long, steady, sweeping stroke that has carried the Myrtles to victory so often, and it is not likely there will be any change of tactics. Many believe the time of last year's senior event, 9 minutes 48 seconds, will be beaten, while others think differently. The Myrtles' winning crew last year was W. H. Crozier, bow; P. Lishman, No. 2; Leslie P. Scott, No. 3; and O. Sorenson, stroke.

MOKULELE'S QUICK TRIP.

Brings Mixed Cargo—Evidences of a Terrible Storm.

The schooner Mokulele arrived this morning twenty-six hours from the Kona coast, Hawaii, with a mixed cargo, which included bananas, fish, cabbage, tobacco, coffee, sugar and firewood. The Mokulele proved her sailing qualities on this trip as is shown by the time she made from Kona. She reports the same kind of heavy seas and high waves which the Mauna Loa experienced and which were in evidence along the Waikiki beach the latter part of the week. At Hokena a trestle work wharf used by wagons was washed away, as was also a part of the road leading to it. At Kailua the waves were higher than had been seen before for years. All the evidence points to a terrific storm somewhere in the Pacific, though no part of the storm itself seems to have reached these Islands.
